T-Online Management board will suggest to the supervisory board to appeal in the release proceedings

T-Online/Darmstadt, 29th November 2005 - The management board of T-Online has reviewed today's decision of the Darmstadt District Court and decided to suggest that the supervisory board file an immediate appeal.

"In this regard it should be stressed that, in its written reasons for the decision, the District Court specifically regarded the actions for avoidance as largely unfounded", says Rainer Beaujean, CEO of T-Online International AG. Only a few factors were weighed up against the interests of T-Online and Deutsche Telekom.

However, the only reason why the District Court found against T-Online was that it mistakenly only took into account the limited cost synergies of around 22.75 million euro per year and not the economic advantages of the merger. The merger report of March 8, 2005 estimated the growth synergies to be around one billion euro at least.
